Mark your calendars and plan ahead for spring 2018 syllabi!

The Committee on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion is pleased to announce the 2nd Annual SOE Race, Ethnicity, and Education Teach-In March 12-16, 2018

During this week instructors of courses offered by the School of Education will address topics of race and ethnicity in relation to course content.

Teach-In objectives are to:
- Continue and strengthen discussion of race and ethnicity in the SOE
- Examine race and ethnicity from many different perspectives (e.g., intersections with gender, socioeconomic status, sexuality, and language, among others)

Teach-In guidelines:
- Spend at least 20 minutes during a class meeting for each of your courses during this week addressing issues of race and ethnicity
- Look for organic connections to your course content
- Play to your own instructional strengths—no pressure to reveal earth-shattering insights into race and ethnicity

Have questions or in need of ideas? See your Department’s Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee representative.

Jeff Wilson            Hillary Parkhouse
Tomika Ferguson        Brendan Dwyer
Adai Tefera            Ashlee Lester
Serra De Arment        David Naff