The Future of LGBTQ Studies at VCU:
Spotlight on Faculty Research

Please join us to meet and engage with scholars at Virginia Commonwealth University working in LGBTQ Studies.

Come hear about exciting plans for the expansion of LGBTQ research, curriculum, advocacy and community engagement at VCU.

This event will include opening remarks from senior leadership, brief introductions from faculty about their scholarly work, opportunities for questions and conversations, and a reception.

This event is organized by the LGBTQIA+ Hub Action Committee, charged with launching a special interest center to be housed within the Division for Inclusive Excellence.

This special interest center will eventually be responsible for coordinating LGBTQ scholarship, advocacy and community engagement across and beyond VCU.

Thursday, September 6, 2018, 2.00 – 5.00 pm
Cabell Library Lecture Hall, 901 Park Avenue

Sponsored by the Office of the President, the Division for Inclusive Excellence, the LGBTQIA+ Hub Action Committee, the College of Humanities and Sciences, the VCU Libraries, and Equality VCU

All are welcome!

For more information or to request reasonable accommodation to participate, please contact Archana A. Pathak, aapathak@vcu.edu, (804) 828-8947.
